

Community, Food, & Ecology: A Young Arkansan Professional Searching and Feeling for Teachers across the Globe

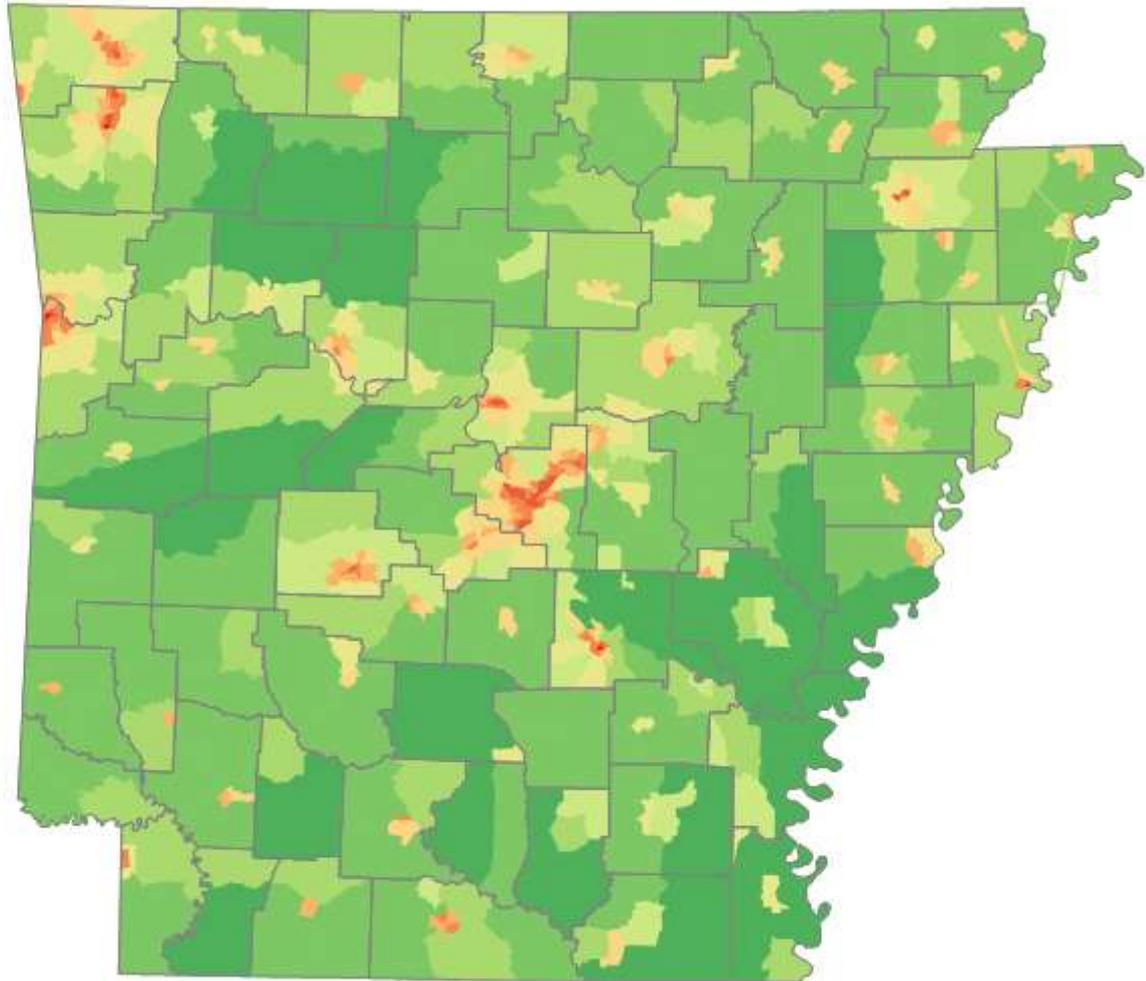

Joanna E. Seibert - Winthrop Rockefeller Institute - Petit Jean Mountain

The technology we need most badly is the technology of community - the knowledge about how to cooperate to get things done.

Bill McKibben

Source: U. S. Census Bureau
Census 2000 Summary File 1 population by census tract.

My Background

1957 Central High Crisis

Creating New Futures
Ways of Relating
&
Connecting

Winthrop Rockefeller Institute

Winthrop Rockefeller

1912-1973

“Every citizen has the duty to be informed, to be thoughtfully concerned, and to participate in the search for solutions.”

Small Farm Initiative

AmeriCorps

Desire to Know Where
Our Food
Comes From,
How to Grow
& Prepare Food, Engage with Local Farmers, and Celebrate Together in Community

FALLING SKY FARM

FOOD FOR A HEALTHY FUTURE.

PASTURE-RAISED MEAT, POULTRY AND EGGS

What are we doing to cultivate the next generation of farmers?

Learning from Each Other at Home & Across the Globe

Recognizing the value of the simplest things – sharing meals together.

We are connected.

Food and Farming as Citizenship

