

“EVERYONE DESERVES
A SMOKE-FREE
WORKPLACE, EVEN BARTENDERS.”

VEO TYSON, Bartender

To read more of my story visit ClearTheAirArkansas.com

LET'S CLEAR THE AIR

Going smoke-free will not hurt businesses or sales. A 2010 study conducted by the University of Arkansas found cities in the South-eastern Conference that implemented comprehensive smoke-free policies in bars had an average 25 percent increase in sales, relative to those that did not. Going smoke-free makes for healthier businesses and healthier employees. Everyone deserves a smoke-free workplace.

CLEARTHEAIRARKANSAS.COM