S.O.S. Man Fights for One and All

My super hero is S.O.S. Man. He can dissolve a cigar with his eyes in the blink of an eye. He can also run so fast that the wind will blow out the fire of a cigar. His arch nemesis is the Silver Smoker. Silver Smoker smokes 50 cigars a day! That takes away over 60 years of his life! S.O.S. Man's motto is: fight for what belongs to you, and don't smoke! He loves to wear his cape everywhere. He wears it at the store, restaurants, even the football games. He lives in a cigar proof mansion that has laser pointers. The laser pointers destroy cigars within five-hundred meters. He always sets the laser pointers for six-hundred meters just to be safe. S.O.S. Man's sidekick is M.A. Man. The M.A. stands for martial arts. He knows every kung-fu move that exists. He even made some up himself. S.O.S. Man has a dog named Killer who eats cigars. Killer will eat anything that stands in his way of stopping smokers. Killer is a border collie and he is black and kind of bluish. S.O.S. Man is 41 and lives in South Arkansas. He has shaggy black hair. He is 6 feet tall and 2 feet wide. he has more muscles than anybody has ever had. He never rests because he is always trying to defeat the Silver Smoker. M.A. Man never leaves S.O.S. Man's side. M.A. Man is a short, bony, young man who is 34 years old. He has spiky red hair and has green glasses. He is only 4 feet tall and 6 inches wide. However, he is awesome at kung-fu! Here's a little story about M.A. Man. One day Joe Brown (M.A. Man) was at his house in Michigan. He was 23 then and he was watching Jeopardy, his favorite show. The show had just ended when 30 year old S.O.S. Man fell through his roof. S.O.S. Man flew back into the air. Then a solid silver man came through his roof smoking a cigar. He flew back into the air too. Joe looked outside and saw a tiny dot. Then it happened. BOOM! CRASH! KA-BOOM! KA-CRASH! Joe looked up and saw S.O.S. Man drop something. It was a power pill. It hit him and he all of a sudden started spinning. He stopped spinning and felt strange. He looked at his clothes, they looked strange too. Joe ran and ran and ran. He noticed the ground was getting smaller, he was flying. Pretty soon he was fighting the Silver Smoker with the S.O.S. Man. Never had he felt so strong. That was the day he became M.A. Man. Okay it's time for a story about our hero S.O.S. Man. At age 17, a high school jock, David Stockman, was in history class. He was on the football team, soccer team, and basketball team. John Helens, otherwise known as the Silver Smoker, was frowning at him. He hated David for being so cool. John pulled out a cigar and started smoking. David froze, then he got his pencil and threw it at the cigar. It knocked the cigar out of John's hand. John said, "YOU NUT HEAD!" He pulled out a pencil and threw it. David just caught it and snapped it in two. David rose in the air. So did John. David flew off into the sky. So did John. It was a battle of extremeness. There was so much noise you could not hear a space ship take off. A group of second graders saw the whole thing. Of course, David won. John got sent to jail. David would still call about John sometimes. One day John broke out of jail and ran off to Mexico. David graduated and became S.O.S. Man. John became the Silver Smoker. David went back and talked to the elementary school he had fought for. He told them not to smoke because it can make you sick and even kill you. That was the best day of David's life. Remember the good guy always wins. We will all be winners if we don't SMOKE!!
