ESO Wave 2022

ATR staff attended the ESO Wave 2022 annual user meeting April 18-22 in Austin, TX. We met Gwen Brooks from Baptist Fort Smith trauma program and David Jones from Jacksonville Department of Fire there and we had a great time. These are some thoughts we would like to share with you:

- ESO Wave 2022 has given us ESO's vision on how the healthcare data (trauma registry, EMS, fire, medical records, etc.) will be collected, stored, transferred between different databases, and utilized for performance improvement in the next 5-10 years.
- Conversations with trauma staff from other states and hospitals have given us a bigger picture about how other states and hospitals manage their trauma programs.
- ESO is developing a new trauma registry product. The layouts of both the registry and the reporting tool are more user friendly.
- Both the training session and meeting session are very informative. We highly recommend our hospital trauma team staff attend the meeting next year.
- Since the pandemic has permanently changed our training mode, ATR will continue developing training videos and other self-learning material for hospital staff. Also, we will adopt hybrid training mode to provide online (zoom), video, and in-person trainings.

Q4 2021 Data Submission and Validation Report

The QTR4 2021 Data Submission Report has been sent out to our hospitals. This is the final QTR report for 2021. Thank you for your timely submission.

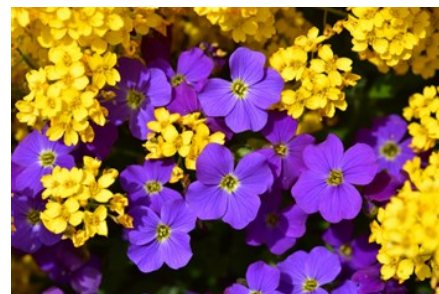

We have also sent out a final Data Validation Report for QTR4 2021 data. Please look over it and correct any of the data elements, if possible, highlighted in red and notify us of any corrections as soon as possible.

New Trauma Band Number

Arkansas Trauma Section at the Arkansas Department of Health has started sending out the new trauma band number beginning with "C". There is no problem for hospital trauma staff to enter this new number into the trauma registry.

National Trauma Registry Professional Day 2022

On Wednesday, May 4, 2022, the American Trauma Society recognized its fourth annual Trauma Registry Professionals Day. We would like to thank you for all the hard work you have done to improve the trauma patient care.
